Board of Education

Members of the Board of Education have again been challenged this year by needs of the school district and the opportunities they have had to serve the schools and community.

Special projects included landscaping the Gardens School, redecorating and equipping a room for a library at the Washington Elementary School, and extending and improving the high school site.

The increasing school population presents some new problems especially in the Junior High School. To solve this problem and others, the Board of Education has invited a Citizens Committee to study our school situation and to make recommendations.

Matters to be studied will include growth of school population, district organization, needs for buildings and sites, Junior High School program and school finance.

Increasing duties and responsibilities in a growing school district keep members of the Board busy but they consider it a privilege to have an opportunity to serve.

Faculty

Allie Davis, Clare Vivian, Aharas Kresin, Shirley Bellow, Thelma Sharritt, Marilyn Gorham, and Margaret Britten make up our language department. Miss Davis is our librarian and Mrs. Sharritt teaches Latin. Miss Vivian teaches Spanish and journalism, in addition to English.

Our social studies instructors are William Spencer, John Whitehouse, Frank Martin, Dwight Lange, and S. H. Sims. Mr. Whitehouse also teaches public speaking and English.

Durnell Stephens, Wayne Morris, Frank Yon, and Burm Misenar (not pictured) make up our science and mathematics department. Mr. Stephens teaches physics, chemistry, and algebra. Mr. Morris teaches biology and physical science.

Charles Salvo directs the high school band and chorus and Shirley McColl teaches junior and senior high art classes. Jane Dow and Neil Collard instruct our commercial classes, and our home economics teachers are Eugenia Winkel and Gerald Mullen.

The physical education department consists of Dick Parfitt, Donna Lickly, Bob Sullivan, and Frank Wheeler.

George Pake, Fred Hop, Gerard Burghdorf, and William Philp (not pictured) make up our industrial arts department. Mr. Pake also teaches typing and Mr. Philp is in charge of the co-op program.

Family Portrait

The play centers around the attempt to marry off an "undesirable" daughter, and a feud. The plot also is complicated by the appearance of a "dude" and his aunt. The father of the hillbilly family tries to marry the "undesirable" to the "dude".

Language Department

Preparing for a quiz in English 12

Our English teachers are Miss Kresin, Miss Britten, Mrs. Bellow, Mrs. Gorham, and Miss Vivian, who also teaches Spanish. Our Latin instructor is Mrs. Sharritt.

That must be a good story!

The Spanish I class presents "Cascabel" at the Christmas Sing.

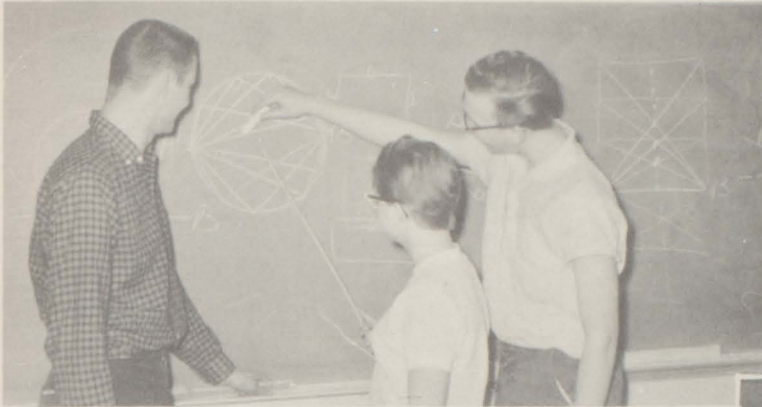

Practicing for a Latin skit.

Mathematics Department

Kay Kelly and David Wirth explain a geometry problem while Uwe Wiese looks on.

Mr. Yon's trigonometry students have to study hard.

Science Department

There comes a time in all Mr. Morris' biology classes when we must find out what the grasshopper is made of.

The chemistry students appear to be working hard. Those sulfur experiments are serious business.

Commercial Department

Commercial subjects offered at Marysville include Typing I and II, Shorthand I and II, bookkeeping, and office practice.

Art Department

The junior high art classes learn mostly how to handle crayons, paints and other tools. The students in the high school art class do leatherwork, ceramics, painting or anything else in which they are interested.

Above, Mrs. McCall is rolling the clay as the first step in making a flat dish, and Joyce is cleaning the greenware. This must be done before the object can be painted. At the right Judy, Rosemary, and Roy are admiring the objects that were taken from the kiln.

Homemaking Department

Above, Mrs. Winkel's first hour Home and Family Living class studies a child of one and a half as they practice their knitting. Below, two of the third hour students are making a hospital bed as part of their study in home nursing.

Jeannette Alcorn demonstrates pressing the pleats of a skirt.

Miss Mullen's Homemaking III class is also learning how to knit.

Industrial Arts Department

Mr. Burghdorf's mechanical drawing class in action.

Mr. Hop's machine woodworking class are showing several different aspects of their work.

Several students in the machine shop work on machine lathes under the direction of Mr. Philp.

Mr. Pake is seen with his eighth grade general shop class who are working with plastics, sheet metal, and wrought iron.

Driver Training

Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Misenar both teach driver training in our high school. Shown at left is Mr. Wheeler and his third hour class.

Rain or shine, driver training must go on.

Counseling Program

Marysville High School has a very good counseling program. Every student has a counselor, who will help him with vocational, educational, and personal problems.

Physical Education Department

Students in the physical education department participate in many activities including tumbling, trampoline, baseball, tennis, badminton, basketball, volleyball, archery, and swimming.

The noon hour intramural program includes co-ed volleyball, basketball, badminton, and ping pong.

Social Studies Department

Students in this ninth grade social studies class are displaying booklets that they have made. Mr. Sims is the instructor.

Often a lecture is due in world history and today almost everyone seems interested as Mr. Spencer tells of the conquests of Napoleon I.

Mr. Lange's social problems class listens to a panel discussion.

Co-operative

Community businesses cooperate with the school in employing selected students who divide their day between school classes and the training station. This program permits a student to begin supervised training in an occupation of his choice, and earn credit toward graduation.

Student Council Activities

The magazine and journal sale was held from October 3 to October 14. About $800 was made on the sale which was split among the classes and school. Grand prize was won by Barbara Moran.

Election of the homecoming queen was sponsored by two nominees, after which the students voted. Queen Shirley Evans was crowned after the homecoming game.

In November the council members went to various businesses in the area for the contributions to help finance this yearbook. They raised $450. The 400 yearbooks sold this year is the largest number ever sold here.

The Christmas Sing sponsored by the council on December 20, was one of the best ever held in Marysville High School.

A hall monitor system was set up by the council and put into effect the second semester. The monitors were volunteers from the study halls.

At present the council is considering the possibilities of student activity tickets for next year.
